W. U. ATHLETES READY FOR TIGERS

Myrtle and Maroon Team Work Hard for Dual Meet With Missouri and Intercollegiate Contests.

Washington University athletes will have a good workout in competition in the dual athletic meet with the Missouri State University athletes on May 11.

The man who will represent the myrtle and maroon in the big intercollegiate meet at the Stadium on May 26, when the teams of the Southern intercollegiate League will compete, will be selected from the performances against Missouri, although it is the intention of Coach Fairweather to have a strong team against the Columbia men.

In the big meet five teams from Texas, three from Colorado, one from Oklahoma, one from Arkansas, and several other large institutions will be represented.

Coach Fairweather has got a line on the men he will send against the Tigers and intends to do much with his charges before the day of the contests.

Seth Smith, the captain of the track team, will be Washington's best man in the 40-yard dash.

Smith's specialty, however, is the broad jump and hurdle. In the myrtle and maroon, he will be the best in the long jump and distance, and probably expects much from the track. Myrtle is also working well in the half-mile, as is Lantz.

Fairweather has a good squad of runners in Johnson, Evans, Brooks and English. They are all in fine condition, going fast and will have a chance at the Tigers.

Williams has been doing the best work of the squad in the pole vault. He is also good in the high jump, and the high jump and Leichter and Froehle in the high jump are a pair that go high. While Elsener and McLaughlin are working well in the 200-meter dash.

Fritz Lehmann and Hunt will look after the weight events in the meets for Washington.

CUBAN SEES FIRST CEMETERY.

Felix Stoops Running to Inspect Tombstones in Graveyard.

An announcement has been made that the Marathon runners who start in the twenty-five-mile race Saturday will be examined by a corps of physicians at the physician's office the day before the race.

This examination is to be held so that no athlete who does not pass will be allowed to start, thereby preventing any serious result because of poor condition.

From the way the local boys have been training, all will start. Nine men walked and partly ran over the course Sunday and looked in perfect condition when they started.

Poly, character, the coach, was one of the starters Sunday. After hearing the results the boys walked a fast gait, but Poly, it is known, had not run before he was out of sight of the crowd.

However, at East St. Louis Poly and Williams, the two coaches, started running at Hollister, received a hearty handclap on the sprint over the hedge.

When all the runners collected at the starting line, Poly, who had run, had taken so long to cover the distance, that, finally, when he had taken with a good lead.

He explained to his coach, Poly, by saying that he had passed Poly and, in being the first one that he ever had seen, he stopped the time and made an excuse.

Light work will be set for the local athletes from now on, to keep on edge.

DELMAR BRIDGE IS TESTED.

Large Roller Is Driven over "Weak" Spot at Delmar for Automobiles.

The bridge over the creek at Delmar race track was yesterday tested to insure the safety of the automobiles going over the course in the races next Sunday. A heavy steam roller was working on the course during the day and there was a sign of danger.

This was done to satisfy several who feared that the weight of the speeding machines would cause the bridge to give way. The roller, which weighed the heaviest part of the field, but whose machines weigh on average of about 1,700 pounds, which is much lighter than a field of twelve or fifteen horses.

WALDY RANKS AS HIGH MAN.

Winn Weekly Contest of the St. Louis Reservoir Club With Score of 89.

Ed. Walley of the St. Louis Reservoir Club made the excellent score of 89 in the Winn Weekly contest yesterday.

The unusually exceptional shot was, Sunday, a score of 20 and was fifth man.

Doctor Moore made a score of 87, Walley, 86; Frank, 85; George, 84; and Ed. Walley, 83. Charles Morris, 82; George, 81; Van Kleeck, 80; Morris, 79; A. H. Baum, 78; Doctor Clegg, 76; L. W. Williams, 75.
